OFFICE ACTION

1. This application has been assigned to Technology Center 1700, Art Unit 1797 and the following will apply for this application:

Please direct all written correspondence with the correct application serial number for this application to Art Unit 1797.

Telephone inquiries regarding this application should be directed to the Electronic Business Center (EBC) at <http://www.uspto.gov/ebc/index.html> or 1-866-217-9197 or to the Examiner at (571) 272-1139. All official facsimiles should be transmitted to the centralized fax receiving number 571-273-8300.

Election/Restriction Requirement

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-8, drawn to a transfer facility/rotor stirrer.

Group II, claim(s) 9-30, drawn to a recirculation and transfer vessel layout.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The application lacks unity within the meaning of Rule 13.1 and 13.2 PCT since there are two subjects covered by the claims which are neither linked by common special technical features, nor achieve a common special technical effect by corresponding technical features so that they are not linked by a single general inventive concept.

The subjects are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept, as required by Rule 13.1 PCT, as follows:

Group I vs. Group II: The only common technical features of Group I and Group II are a rotor type stirrer, overhead drive, stirrer housing, liquid transfer zone, liquid intake, tangential liquid discharge, wherein the liquid intake to the housing is situated to be non-overhead while the stirrer is mounted to rotate in a horizontal plane and thus about an upright axis.

These features are however not new as demonstrated by cited US patent 4,534,654 to Alt et al. since this patent discloses a rotor type stirrer 31-33, overhead drive 61-65, stirrer housing 24, liquid transfer zone within 24, liquid intake 41, tangential liquid discharge 25, wherein the liquid intake 41 to the housing is situated to be non-overhead while the stirrer is mounted to rotate in a horizontal plane and thus about an upright axis as seen in Figs. 3-5.

Hence Group I and Group II share features that are not new and therefore do not have a technical relationship which is based on corresponding special technical features as required by Rule 13.2 PCT. When considering the effects associated with the features of the claims as a whole, no single general inventive concept can be seen.

The requirements of Rule 13.1 PCT are therefore not fulfilled.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
